Highway 61 Revisited

Modern American Music along the Mighty Mississippi
A WBCCI National Caravan from Minnesota to Louisiana

Highway 61 Revisited

Dear 2020 Caravaners!

With this first irregular report we are happy to report that we completed our 2018 Caravan on a high note. Other than a refrigerator door flying off the hinges and a slide-out refused to slide in, all of which got taken care of in no time, we were a bunch of happy campers. The Mighty Mississippi is indeed mighty and modern American music has deep historic roots along the old river road. Bob Dylan's 1965 album "Highway 61 Revisited" inspired this Caravan, a journey with an educational component in addition to lots of fun fun and fellowship.

The reason why we skip 2019 is that Ingo & Mary & their beloved dachshunds will spend three months in Europe. As our 28' International has to stay home, we may opt for a 34 horsepower Mini-based motorhome as shown above. It's about as big as a pickup bed, and how this puppy will climb the French alps is beyond our imagination.

You receive this communiqué because you signed up for our 2020 H61R Caravan and secured your participation. So once in a while you'll receive an email, effective January 2020 you'll get it monthly until August just before we all meet up North. Look up our 2018 versions on the H61R website. It would be nice if you could send me a brief intro of yourself with photo. I would be more than happy to publish them in future editions. Thank you and may y'all be blessed.
